Organizations Needed to Field Test Science PD Program

December 1, 2003

Earth Science by Design seeks eight organizations (such as a school district, a museum, a consortium, or a college department) to field-test its year-long program of professional development for middle school science teachers, beginning in summer 2004. Offering $10,000 in program support for each organization selected. For further information, see esbd.terc.edu. Contact Harold McWilliams, Ph.D., Project Director, at 617-873-9673, harold_mcwilliams@terc.edu for information and to apply.
